

SHARED CLINICAL LEARNING IN GLOBAL HEALTH

Participate in a clinical learning experience with Ugandan peers

Join Empower Through Health in Jinja, Uganda for a transformative Clinical Week Experience! American and Ugandan students will explore healthcare delivery in a low-resource setting through clinical shadowing, didactic sessions, and guided reflections. This immersive program offers a unique opportunity to learn about global health systems, medical ethics, and community-driven solutions while building lasting cross-cultural connections.

Want to take your impact further? Apply to be a Student Leader! Leaders help shape the academic and community impact of the Clinical Week by organizing group travel, leading didactic discussions, spearheading fundraising, and coordinating a project with Ugandan partners. This is a chance to build your leadership skills, strengthen your global health portfolio, and leave a tangible impact in Uganda.
